HE WILL RESIGN. What Mr. Judd Will Do Rather Than En barrass the President There are no new developments today in the government has refused to grant exequator to Mr. Judd he cannot perform the duties of the office of consul general and the President will either have to make another appointment or leave the office vacant. A diplomatic officer said today that every government exercises the right to refuse to transact business with a person objectionable to it and that ness with a person objectionable to it, and that in the case of Mr. Juad Austria is merely doing what the United States would have the un-questioned right to do in the event Austria questioned right to do in the event Austria should accredit to this country a man who was personally objectionable to the authorities.

Mr. Judd, who is now in St. Louis, is quoted as saying that if the Austrian government offers any objection to his appointment he will relieve the President from all embarrassment by tendering his resignation. In such an event he would probably get an appointment "equally as good" in some other country.

Changes in the Venezuelan Tariff. The Secretary of State is in receipt of a dispatch from the minister of the United States at Caracas, transmitting a decree of the govestablishing from the 5th proximo the regular establishing from the 5th proximo the regular import duties upon Indian corn, rice, beans and potatoes. The duties amount to one-tenth of one bolivar (about 2 cents) per kilogram upon Indian corn and rice and one-fourth of one bolivar (about 5 cents) upon beans and potatoes, plus the usual 12½ per cent addition. It is said that this action has some bearing on the proposition to revoke the discriminating duties now imposed on products of Venezuela imported into the United States.
